To whom it may concern,

Shuvani Choudhury was an intern at Othera B.V for several months before the company's discontinuation as of 31 January 2020. As former HR Manager at Othera, I was one of Shuvani's supervisors and can whole heartedly vouch for her character and work ethic.

Shuvani demonstrated great levels of communication and planning, successfully coordinated her responsibilities and worked independently with little to no supervision. Her diligent attitude and professional mindset assisted her in consistently meeting deadlines.

Fortnightly she would present her work to management and our senior technology team. Her findings were always very well received, informative and thought provoking. She quickly became a reliable and valued member of the team.

Shuvani left at the end of her internship to continue her studies in another city. She was a pleasure to work with. I wish her well and do not hesitate to recommend her to any future employer.

This reference is given in strict confidence without liability or responsibility on behalf of Othera. Should you have any further questions about her character, please feel free to contact me.

Yours sincerely,
